

A TRACKING VEHICLE

Mick Douglas

mick.douglas@rmit.edu.au

MASTER OF ARTS (DESIGN)
by project

RMIT University
Department of Architecture & Design 1997

THIS TEXT MAY BE COPIED FREELY, BUT PLEASE INCLUDE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE AUTHOR

TOUR ROUTE ...

manoeuvring toward departures.....	3
orientating toward practices of designing art in public space.....	4
narrating toward renewed ways of making art public.....	5
manoeuvring toward art encounters with the collective.....	7
DERAILMENT 1.....	9
following a speculative enquiry.....	10
Imagining A Tracking Vehicle.....	10
imaging the project's allegorical structure of movement.....	12
orientating toward a network of tracks.....	13
DERAILMENT 2.....	15
poeticising designerly ways of knowing.....	16
manoeuvring en tracks: the network of an art and design practice.....	17
remembering tracking: a figure of interwoven design vectors.....	19
poeticising the exemplary departure of derailments.....	20
remembering a proposition for an art of Melbourne tracks.....	21
imaging the remembrance of A Tracking Vehicle.....	23
imaging the conduct of A Tracking Vehicle.....	24
DERAILMENT 3.....	25

ROUTE 1 ...

seeing Melbourne	30
storytelling Melbourne via tram	31
reiterating conventional narratives of design knowledge	32
modeling traditional images of design knowledge	34
conceptualising narrative	35
evoking images of non-linear movement	37
DERAILMENT 4	37
poeticising a system of transportation	38
visualising the track	39
reciting the rail-track	40
figurating movement en track	41
reiterating the tracks of ambivalent knowledge	43
DERAILMENT 5	44
forming images of movement	45
abstracting a space of the track	47
conceptualising public space	48
unfolding allegorical modes of memorialisation	49
DERAILMENT 6	51

ROUTE 2 ...

mobilising the Melbourne tramways	57
reiterating tramway momentum	58
amplifying an operative logic of movement	59
DERAILMENT 7	60
tracing intentions in design	61
spatialising intentions	62
displacing logocentric intent in art and design work	63
DERAILMENT 8	66
amplifying tracks	67
supposing the subject of tracking	69
reiterating learning and knowing in following	70
negotiating a dialogical momentum in public art and design	72
mobilising dialogical design know-how	73
displacing objects and subjects	74
reiterating a poetics of design practice	75
DERAILMENT 9	77
attuning the figurations of technology	79
apprehending contemporary public space	81
approximating an interface between different space-times	82
modulating potential resonance of artwork in public space	83
DERAILMENT 10	84

ROUTE 3 ...

approximating positions and times	90
following vehicles and shifts of space-time	90
attending toward an adjacency of proximities	92
activating a dynamic of nearness	92
supposing self, other and community	95
posing the subject of design	97
negotiating the line of the track	99
departing the line of the track	102
engaging non-essentialist identities, communities and locations	103
motivating tracks of renewable trajectories	104
enunciating space-time for manoeuvring	105
amplifying difference en track	106
DERAILMENT 11	108
situating tracks of Melbourne	109
figurating sensibilities	111
DERAILMENT 12	113
shifting locations	114
reconstructing possibilities for public space	116
DERAILMENT 13	117

ROUTE 4 ...

returning tracks	124
repositing urban traces	126
transposing memory, material, form	127
attending toward images	129
memorialising past / present	131
apprehending knowledge of the city	132
DERAILMENT 14	134
habitualising tracks	135
conceptualising absent traces en track	136
registering memory and arrangement	138
mobilising the imagination	140
DERAILMENT 15	143
redeeming the flow-on effects of the track	144
revisiting the street	145
imagining memories	147
recreating home	148
DERAILMENT 16.....	149